8 IN THE MATTER OF ARIZONA PUBLIC
9 SERVICE COMPANY AND VERIZON
CALIFORNIA, INC.'S JOINT PETITION FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF AN UNDERGROUND COVERSION SERVICE
AREA.10 Docket Nos. E-01345A-07-0663
T-01846B-07-066311 UPDATED DOCUMENTATION IN 12 SUPPORT OF UNDERGROUND
13 CONVERSION SERVICE AREA

14 Hillcrest Bay, Inc. ("Hillcrest"), pursuant to the Commission's July 3, 2008 Procedural Order, provides updated documentation in support of an underground conversion service area under A.R.S. § 40-342 et seq. (the "Underground Conversion Act" or "Act").

15 I. Introduction.16 The community of Hillcrest Bay is located in La Paz County, bordered by Lake Havasu, a
17 National wildlife refuge, and undeveloped BLM and state land. This scenic location is cherished
18 by the residents. However, the resident's views are marred by utility poles and overhead lines
19 owned by APS and Verizon. In some cases, the lines unsafely intrude into backyards and patios.
20 In addition, the lines attract numerous birds from the nearby wildlife refuge, and the resulting bird
21 droppings pose a health hazard. For all these reasons, converting these overhead utility lines to 22 underground lines would be a great benefit to the Hillcrest Bay community. Moreover, the 23 conversion will create construction jobs.24 The original overhead poles and lines were constructed in the 1970s. The electrical system
25 is outdated. If the area is not converted to underground service, APS will install new overhead
26 poles and lines in the front sides of the homes, while Verizon will maintain the existing poles and 27

1 lines in the back sides of the homes.¹ The resulting profusion of poles and lines will only double
2 the health and aesthetic harm, while also causing significant harm to property values.

3 Of course, as in any project of this type, the costs of the conversion are an important
4 consideration. While a majority of the residents have always supported the conversion, some
5 residents have opposed conversion because of the costs. During the July 2008 Commission Open
6 Meeting, several commissioners expressed concerns with the impacts of the costs. Therefore, the 7 Commission requested that additional efforts be made to reduce the economic impacts, especially
8 for lower-income members of the community. Hillcrest has taken these comments to heart, and it
9 has been able to substantially reduce the overall cost of the underground conversion, and it has 10 established a Financial Assistance Program assist low income residents with conversion costs.

11 The reduced conversion costs, and the Financial Assistance Program, make the 12 underground conversion even more compelling. In addition, Hillcrest is providing additional 13 evidence of the health, safety, economic and aesthetic benefits of the conversion. Accordingly,
14 Hillcrest requests that the Commission establish an underground conversion service area under 15 A.R.S. § 40-342 et seq.

16 II. Procedural History.

17 Hillcrest Bay was developed in the 1970s. In Decision No. 42189 (June 30, 1972), the 18 Commission granted an exemption from underground facilities requirements, and allowed the 19 installation of “overhead facilities”. Many Hillcrest Bay residents have long desired to eliminate 20 the unsightly and harmful overhead facilities. Because the electrical lines must be replaced, the 21 residents realized that they had a rare opportunity. Beginning in 2004, residents began working
22 with La Paz County to underground the facilities. At first, Hillcrest pursued the establishment of a
23 county improvement district with the cooperation of the county, APS and Verizon. However,
24 Verizon eventually pulled out of the process.²

27 ¹ May 16, 2008 Recommended Opinion and Order, Finding of Fact Nos. 102-104.

² May 16, 2008 Recommended Opinion and Order, Finding of Fact Nos. 36-37.

1 A La Paz County Supervisor suggested that Hillcrest ask the Commission to form an
2 Underground Conversion Service Area (“UCSA”) under Underground Conversion Act. In
3 November 2006, the first petition for underground conversion was submitted to APS, as required
4 under the Act. About a year later, APS and Verizon filed a joint petition to establish an UCSA
5 under the Act. On January 18, 2008, the Commission held a hearing as required under the Act.
6 After the hearing, Commission Staff filed a legal brief recommending approval of the UCSA, and
7 concluding that all legal requirements have been met. Verizon and APS filed a joint brief
8 concluding that all legal requirements for establishment of an UCSA have been met.

9 The Administrative Law Judge issued a Recommended Opinion and Order recommending
10 denial due to the costs to individual lot owners.³ At the July 2008 Open Meeting, the Commission
11 declined to adopt the Recommended Opinion and Order, and requested that Hillcrest provide 12 additional information. The Administrative Law Judge then issued a Procedural Order, stating that 13 the parties supporting the UCSA may file, by May 1, 2009, the following additional 14 documentation:

- 15 (1) A document detailing the financial assistance to be provided to individual
16 Hillcrest Bay owners, who shall be identified by name and parcel
17 number;
- 18 (2) Amended cost estimates showing for each parcel the public costs, service
19 costs, and private costs resulting from the UCSA;
- 20 (3) Any reliable evidence establishing that the UCSA will result in 21 increased property values;
- 22 (4) A new petition listing each parcel, indicating whether the owner/s of each 23 parcel support or oppose the UCSA, and including the dated signature of 24 an owner of each parcel; and
- 25 (5) A list of the Hillcrest Bay owners of record generated by the La Paz

County Recorder's Office within 30 days before the documentation is filed with the Commission.

Accordingly, Hillcrest is submitting additional information concerning each of these five topics, as well as additional information in support of an underground conversion. In addition, exhibits containing supporting information are available, as follows:

Exhibit A Information concerning Financial Assistance Program

Exhibit B Updated cost estimates from contractor

Exhibit C Opinion letter from appraiser regarding impact on property values

Exhibit D Tabulation of new petition of property owners

Exhibit E Updated property owners list from county recorder's office

Exhibit F Additional health and environmental information

The exhibits are voluminous, and accordingly the exhibits are not included in the service copies of this document. The exhibits are being provided to the Commission Staff, and copies of CDs with the exhibits are available upon written request to Roshka, DeWulf & Patten. In addition, the electronic version of this document will include the exhibits and is available on the Commission's eDocket system (<http://edocket.azcc.gov/>).

III. Item # 1 – Financial Assistance Information.

Hillcrest has established a Financial Assistance Program to assist low-income residents. The program has two components. First, the contractor, Tades, Inc (formerly CMK) will provide low income assistance. Tades has agreed to provide free electrical connections to five low-income lot owners. In addition, Tades will provide a 15% discount to all other low-income owners. Second, Hillcrest has established a fund of more than $28,000 to assist low-income owners. The funds are being provided by Hillcrest, and by 19 generous Hillcrest owners who have signed commitment letters to provide these funds. The five free electrical connections, the 15% discount, and the $28,000 fund will provide ample resources to assist low-income Hillcrest owners.

Hillcrest used a two step process to identify low income lot owners. Hillcrest sent letters to every lot owner, asked whether they were low-income and needed financial assistance. The

1 owners who requested assistance were then asked to confidentially provide an independent CPA
2 with verification of their low income status. Twenty-eight (28) lot owners (representing 31 lots)
3 responded to the first letter indicating they were low income. Of these, seven lot owners provided
4 documentation to the CPA. Out of these seven, four indicated that they did not want help, and
5 three requested assistance and were approved. These three owners will receive the free electrical
6 connections offered by the contractor. Hillcrest Bay will reopen the Financial Assistance Program
7 upon approval of the UCSA project. This aid process will begin one year prior to the proposed
8 start date of the construction. The owners making a request for financial aid will need to follow
9 through with the requirements of the original program. The time compliance with the original
10 program was for 30 days with a 15 day extension. This new opportunity will last for 30 days.

IV. Item # 2 – Amended Cost Estimates.

12 By working with the contractor, Hillcrest Bay has been able to obtain a substantial reduction in 13 the estimated cost. The original cost estimates were approximately $2,910,528.⁴ Hillcrest Bay has 14 provided two cost estimates. The first cost estimate incorporates the cost information previously
15 provided by APS and Verizon, and only updates the “private property” trenching and electrical 16 costs. The first cost estimate is $2,859,435, a reduction of $51,093. The second cost estimate
17 assumes that the contractor will be allowed to do some of the work that APS and Verizon would 18 otherwise have done. Under the second scenario, the cost is only $2,245,403.57, a reduction of 19 $665,124, or about 23%.

V. Item # 3 – Evidence of impact on property values.

Hillcrest obtained a valuation letter from Mr. Philip J. Garcia, Principal Appraiser of Enterprise Valuation Associates, Inc. concerning the impact of underground conversion on property values.⁵ Mr. Garcia's investigation included a review of published economic research concerning underground conversion. Mr. Garcia's findings are that underground conversion would increase property values by 5% to 15%, with 80% of the properties falling within this range.

⁴ May 16, 2008 Recommended Opinion and Order, Exhibit C.

27 May 16, 2005 Exhibit C.

1 Thus, underground conversion will have a significant positive impact on property values. For a
2 home valued at $200,000, the impact will be an increase in value between $10,000 and $30,000.
3 There are a wide range of homes in Hillcrest Bay, and some homes have sold for as much as
4 $500,000. Thus, the economic benefits of conversion are substantial, even if the health, safety,
5 and aesthetic benefits of the conversion are not considered.

6 Moreover, the alternative to underground conversion is not the status quo. If the 7 underground conversion is not approved, APS will install new overhead lines and poles in the
8 front of the lots, while Verizon will retain the existing lines and poles in the back of the lots.⁶
9 Such a myriad of lines would be nearly unprecedented, and would almost certainly have a
10 substantial negative impact on property values. Having two sets of lines to each house – one in 11 front and one in back – would create a unique and unjustifiable burden on the community.
12 Hillcrest implores the Commission to not subject the Hillcrest Bay community to such an 13 unprecedented burden.

14 VI. Item # 4 – additional petition

15 In July 2008, Hillcrest mailed additional petitions to 213 property owners. Hillcrest
16 received 193 responses:

	# of responses	% of responses
18	In favor	127	65.8%
19	Opposed	66	34.2%

20 As Staff explained in their brief, under A.R.S. §§ 40-435 and 40-344, objections & withdrawals
21 are determined 10 days prior to the hearing.⁷ Or as the Commission has stated “Section 40-344
22 requires any person wishing to withdraw from the petition or who objects to the establishment of 23 the [U]CSA to file such objection not later than ten days prior to the hearing. Section 40-344
24 specifically provides the procedure by which the Commission is to determine the validity of 25 protests, objections and withdrawal of signatures from the petition.” Decision No. 55490 (March

26 _____

⁷ Staff Brief dated March 21, 2008 at 10-11.

1 19, 1987) at 4-5. Thus, the legal requirements for owner support have already been established.
2 However, the additional petition demonstrates continuing strong community support for the 3 underground conversion, with supporters outnumbering opponents by nearly a 2-1 margin.

4 VII. Item # 5 – Updated property owner list

5 An updated property owner list (April 9, 2009) from the La Paz County Recorder's office
6 is being provided to Staff as Exhibit E.

7 VIII. Additional health and safety issues.

8 There are at least 36 properties where utility lines hang over back yards and patios. This 9 presents obvious safety issues. Photos showing some of these yards are included in Exhibit F. In 10 addition, large numbers of birds from the nearby wildlife refuge and Lake Havasu will land on the 11 overhead lines. The large volume of bird droppings and the danger of inhaling dust from the 12 droppings can be a health hazard. For example, according the Centers for Disease Control, the 13 diseases of histoplasmosis and cryptococcosis can be caused by bird droppings.⁸ The health
14 concerns are magnified by the large volume of droppings. For example, in a letter dated March 27,
15 2009 and docketed on April 3, 2009, Mr. Dudley Palmer noted that “a large portion of my patio
16 was covered with a thick layer of bird droppings from migratory birds.... These bird droppings are 17 a major problem for me to clean up, daily.”

18 Lastly, in power line siting cases, the Commission has expressed considerable concern with 19 “visual impact” of power lines. See e.g. Decision No. 69343 (February 20, 2007)(condition no.
20 20, requiring mitigation of visual impact); Decision No. 68189 (Sept. 30, 2005)(approving
21 amendment to line to reduce visual impact). Such concerns are often heightened near scenic areas
22 or parks. Here, Hillcrest Bay is in a scenic area and is next to a wildlife refuge. Yet, the area is 23 beset with numerous overhead lines – and if the underground conversion is not approved, APS
24 will install yet more overhead lines. The Commission should act to remove this visual impact.

IX. Conclusion.

Underground conversion will increase health and safety, remove a significant adverse visual impact, and will increase property values. If underground conversion is not approved, APS will install a second set of poles and overhead lines, multiplying the health, safety and visual impacts, and harming property values. The Financial Assistance Program and the updated cost estimates show that the underground conversion is “economically and technically feasible” as required by the Act. The underground conversion is strongly supported by the community, by nearly a 2-1 margin. And the conversion will provide construction jobs – work that will be especially beneficial in this time of economic distress. Hillcrest requests that the Commission approve the Underground Conversion Service Area.

Re: Financial Assistance Program

I spoke with Doug Bigler, CPA on February 20, 2009 at 10: 05 a.m. Doug indicated to me that the following lot owners had responded to the Financial Assistance Program. He stated that 7 people replied. 4 lot owners indicated that they did not want help. They were lot# 54, 61A, 74/75 and 167. There were 3 lot owners that applied and were approved for assistance. They were lot 120A, 264 and 28.

Mr. Bigler stated that he was able to review the applications within a time that he did not feel would be reasonable to bill. His service was free of charge.

I thanked Mr. Bigler for his time and he said he would email over our Financial Assistance Program log for our review.

Gentlemen:

This letter is to confirm our understanding of the terms and objectives of the engagement of Douglas R. Bigler, CPA, Inc. and the nature and limitations of the services I will provide.

I will perform the following services:

1. Review applications for financial assistance for the Hillcrest Bay underground utilities project for acceptance into the assistance program from criteria that you provide.
2. Provide to you, on your form, a recommendation for acceptance or rejection of the application for assistance from the applications submitted.
3. Maintain a file of the applications for assistance submitted and the supporting documentation for a period of seven years after which the file will be properly destroyed.

My engagement cannot be relied upon to disclose errors, irregularities, or illegal acts, including fraud or defalcations that may exist. However, I will inform you of any such matters that come to our attention.

My fee for the above services will be based on my normal per diem rates plus any out-of-pocket expense incurred and is estimated to be $25 per application submitted for review.

The estimates are based on anticipated cooperation from your personnel and the assumption that unexpected circumstances will not be encountered during the work. If I encounter situations during your engagement with me that cause the fees to exceed the estimate, I will advise you at that time to discuss alternatives before proceeding. Management advisory services requested by management will be rendered at my standard rates.

Billings become delinquent if not paid within 30 days of the invoice date. If billings are past due in excess of 60 days, I will stop work until your account is brought current, or withdraw from this engagement. Accounts past due, more than 60 days, will incur an interest charge, assessed at the rate of 1% of the delinquent account balance each month not to exceed the maximum as permitted by law.

If any legal proceedings should occur, the party determined to be at fault by a court of law or through arbitration will be responsible for the other party's reasonable legal costs.

I appreciate the opportunity to be of service to you and believe this letter accurately summarizes the significant terms of our engagement. If you have any questions, please let me know. If you agree with the terms of our engagement as described in this letter, please sign the enclosed copy and return it to us.

Sincerely,

Douglas R. Bigler, CPA, Inc.

Re: Procedural Order dated July 3, 2008, page 3, line 3, "(3) any reliable evidence establishing that the UCSA will result in increased property values."

Dear Commissioners:

In accordance with the above Procedural Order and at the request of the Board of Directors of Hillcrest Bay Mobil Manor ("Hillcrest Bay" or "The Community") I have undertaken a preliminary investigation and analysis of the effect on property values with the conversion of above ground utilities to the undergrounding of electric and phone utilities in a community ("Undergrounding").

As part of this investigation I have conducted a search for information concerning incremental property value change with the undergrounding of utilities in a community. This research has included a review of several major studies on undergrounding of utilities both domestically and internationally. In addition to these studies, which I have listed in the Addenda to this letter, I have spoken with local realtors who are familiar with property values in the area. And finally, I have spoken with the La Paz County Assessor Mr. George H. Nault, on how property assessment value could be affected by changing from above ground utilities to underground utilities.

Based on this investigation, there appear to be at least four major benefits that are cited in the literature. We would assume that the extension of these benefits to a community would in some manner increase property values on a before and after basis in a normalized real estate market.

The following summarizes these benefits.

- Reduced Contact Injuries, both car-pole and human.
- Improved Reliability Benefits
- Severe weather benefits (Storms, Lighting and Wind)
- Aesthetic Benefits

The studies listed in the Addenda discuss in detail the cost benefit analysis. The last benefit listed above, aesthetic benefit, does not appear to be quantifiable by most standards. It is more from a societal perspective that value is recognized. Most of the papers that have been written on undergrounding of utilities and the removal of man made clutter in the form of utility poles, transformers and wires that impinge on our surroundings have not been successfully quantified in terms of a monetary impact on real property.

However it is generally accepted that some value is added to a community when a successful Undergrounding is completed. In the studies, the authors opine that the range of value increase can be .09 % to 7% and may run considerably more based on certain factors.

From, Putting Cables Underground (1998), Australia

"Valuers-General indicated that there is expected to be an effect on property values, from putting cables underground but this could vary greatly. Average variations from 0.09 per cent up to 5 per cent were reported with individual property variations outside this range. The effect of putting cables underground on property values would appear to be area specific, and location specific within a particular area. In addition, the potential gain to a property owner in dollar terms would vary substantially depending on the nature of the property market at a particular place and time."

From: Economic Benefit-Cost Analysis of Buried Electric Utilities (2007) Marbek Resource Consultants

"From a societal perspective burying utility lines is desirable if the net benefit is positive, meaning that the societal costs are less than the societal benefits. Our simulations show that when a societal perspective is adopted, burying power lines underground in new developments is economically efficient, where the benefits outweigh the costs. This conclusion holds across a variety of assumptions about costs benefits and discount rates. For example, a discount rate assumption of 20% still produces a positive net benefit. If we assume no benefits from avoiding increased storm damages, there is still a positive net benefit. The largest driver in the positive net benefit is the property value increase, which is a proxy for a preference to live in communities with more trees and no visible utility lines."

"Conclusion: There is an economic argument for burying utility lines when a societal perspective is adopted. The net benefit remains positive across a wide range of assumptions about costs, benefits and discount rates."

Discussing property values and the changes due to Undergrounding on a before and after basis, with local Realtors produced no definitive opinions as to value change. Many of these Realtors speculated that some increase in property values could be anticipated but none of them had any actual examples.

Many communities around the country have studied Undergrounding but very few have pursued the actual construction. In actuality we were only able to find one situation in the State of Arizona where a community had changed from above ground to underground utilities. Oro Valley, Arizona performed a partial Undergrounding starting approximately 15 years ago. The author attempted to find an official that could provide enlightenment on the history and valuation perspective, without success. The community currently requires any retrofit or replacement of electric utilities to be put underground. In speaking with Mr. Bayer Vella, Oro Valley GIS, Chief Planner he could only give me a few facts from a historic perspective, and none at all from a property value viewpoint. He did relate that in the past the local utility (Tucson Power) did bear the cost of replacing existing above ground with underground as portions of the existing service needed to be replaced. However, recently Tucson Power has "balked" at putting these replacements underground due to the cost.

As mentioned in the second paragraph, I met with Mr. George H. Nault, La Paz County Assessor to discuss his view on accessing the value of property in Hillcrest Bay. He did not have an opinion of how the proposed Undergrounding would affect property values. His comment was that as a matter of technique in appraising accessed value they relied on comparable recent sales within the community when determining values.

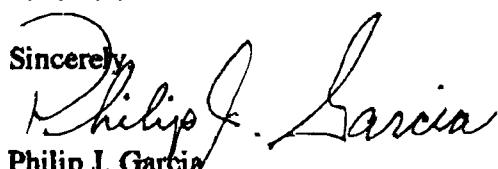

Based on the research I have completed, I would revise the assessment that I made in the letter to the Corporations Commission dated May 8, 2008. Upon consideration of all the facts known to me and contemplating a normalized real property market within the intermediate (three to four year) time horizon that an increase in property values from Undergrounding could range between 5% and 15% depending on property location within Hillcrest Bay. Based on my knowledge of the Community I would further estimate that 80% of the properties would fall within this range.

As part of my professional credentials I held a Senior Appraiser designation from the American Society of Appraisers (ASA). My senior designation, which I held for 22 years, was in Business Valuation. The company, which I founded in 1978, was Enterprise Valuation Associates, Inc. For a period of time in the 1990's I was employed by PricewaterhouseCoppers, LLC as the Senior Appraiser for the western United States. Most of the companies that we appraised either owned or leased real property. While we employed real estate appraisers to value the real property, I reviewed all these appraisals prior to incorporating them into the final valuation report. I believe that my experience in both business valuation and real property appraisals give me considerable insight into normalized valuation issues.

It is with this investigation and experience and that I submit these findings for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Philip J. Garcia
Principal Appraiser

What is histoplasmosis?

Histoplasmosis is a disease caused by the fungus Histoplasma capsulatum. Its symptoms vary greatly, but the disease primarily affect the lungs. Occasionally, other organs are affected. This form of the disease is called disseminated histoplasmosis, and it can be fatal if untreated.

Back to Top

Can anyone get histoplasmosis?

Yes. Positive histoplasmin skin tests occur in as many as 80% of the people living in areas where H. capsulatum is common, such as the eastern and central United States. Infants, young children, and older persons, in particular those with chronic lung disease are at increased risk for severe disease. Disseminated disease is more frequently seen in people with cancer, AIDS or other forms of immunosuppression.

Back to Top

How is someone infected with H. capsulatum?

H. capsulatum grows in soil and material contaminated with bat or bird droppings. Spores become airborne when contaminated soil is disturbed. Breathing the spores causes infection. The disease is not transmitted from an infected person to someone else.

Back to Top

What are the symptoms of histoplasmosis?

Most infected persons have no apparent ill effects. The acute respiratory disease is characterized by respiratory symptoms, a general ill feeling, fever, chest pains, and a dry or nonproductive cough. Distinct patterns may be seen on a chest x-ray. Chronic lung disease resembles tuberculosis and can worsen over months or years. The disseminated form is fatal unless treated.

Back to Top

When do symptoms start?

If symptoms occur, they will start within 3 to 17 days after exposure; the average is 10 days.

Back to Top

Is histoplasmosis treatable?

Yes. Antifungal medications are used to treat severe cases of acute histoplasmosis and all cases of chronic and disseminated disease. Mild disease usually resolves without treatment. Past infection results in partial protection against ill effects if reinfected.

Back to Top

Where is H. capsulatum found?

H. capsulatum is found throughout the world and is endemic in certain areas of the United States. The fungus has been found in poultry house litter, caves, areas harboring bats, and in bird roosts.

Back to Top

What can be done to prevent histoplasmosis?

It is not practical to test or decontaminate most sites that may be contaminated with H. capsulatum, but the following precautions can be taken to reduce a person's risk of exposure:

- Avoid areas that may harbor the fungus, e.g., accumulations of bird or bat droppings.
- Before starting a job or activity having a risk for exposure to H. capsulatum, consult the NIOSH/NCID document Histoplasmosis: Protecting Workers at Risk. This document contains information on work practices and personal protective equipment that will reduce the risk of infection. A copy of this document can be obtained by requesting publication no. 2005-109 from the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health. You can also request additional information by calling 1-800-CDC-INFO.

Clinical Features	In humans, fever, chills, headache, muscle aches, and a dry cough. Pneumonia is often evident on chest x-ray.
Etiologic Agent	Chlamydia psittaci , a bacterium
Incidence	Since 1996, fewer than 50 confirmed cases were reported in the United States each year. Many more cases may occur that are not correctly diagnosed or reported.
Sequelae	Endocarditis, hepatitis, and neurologic complications may occasionally occur. Severe pneumonia requiring intensive-care support may also occur. Fatal cases have been reported.
Transmission	Infection is acquired by inhaling dried secretions from infected birds. The incubation period is 5 to 19 days. Although all birds are susceptible, pet birds (parrots, parakeets, macaws, and cockatiels) and poultry (turkeys and ducks) are most frequently involved in transmission to humans.
Risk Groups	Bird owners, pet shop employees, and veterinarians. Outbreaks of psittacosis in poultry processing plants have been reported.
Surveillance	Psittacosis is a reportable condition in most states.
Trends	Annual incidence varies considerably because of periodic outbreaks. A decline in reported cases since 1988 may be the result of improved diagnostic tests that distinguish C.psittaci from more common C.pneumoniae infections.
Challenges	Diagnosis of psittacosis can be difficult. Antibiotic treatment may prevent an antibody response, thus limiting diagnosis by serologic methods. Infected birds are often asymptomatic. Tracebacks of infected birds to distributors and breeders often is not possible because of limited regulation of the pet bird industry.
Opportunities	Characterize new and rapid diagnostic tests for human and avian psittacosis, and determine value of screening flocks for avian psittacosis to prevent human infection.

Cryptococcus Infection (cryptococcosis) and Animals

What is Cryptococcus infection (cryptococcosis)?

Cryptococcosis (Krip-toe-coc-o-sis) is a fungal disease caused by Cryptococcus neoformans. Most people do not get sick with cryptococcosis, but some people are more likely than others to get this disease. For these people, cryptococcosis can cause serious symptoms of brain and spinal cord disease, such as headaches, dizziness, sleepiness, and confusion.

Can animals transmit cryptococcosis to me?

Yes, but not directly. Cryptococcus neoformans is found in the droppings of wild birds (such as pigeons). When dried bird droppings are stirred up, this can make dust containing Cryptococcus go into the air.

People can stir up this dust and then breathe it in when they work, play, or walk in areas where birds have been. Pets, such as dogs and cats, can also get sick with cryptococcosis from this dust, but people do not get cryptococcosis from dogs and cats.

A person's age and health status may affect his or her immune system, increasing the chances of getting sick. People who are more likely than others to get cryptococcosis include infants, children younger than 5 years old, organ transplant patients, people with HIV/AIDS, and people receiving treatment for cancer.

How can I find out more about cryptococcosis?

Learn more about the disease by referring to CDC's Cryptococcus site.

What is Cryptococcus?

Cryptococcus is a type of fungus that is found in the soil worldwide, usually in association with bird droppings. The major species of Cryptococcus that causes illness in humans is Cryptococcus neoformans. Another less common species, Cryptococcus gattii, also cause disease in humans. Cryptococcus gattii, has been isolated from eucalyptus trees in tropical and sub-tropical regions. Since 1999, C. gattii has also been found in regions of the Pacific Northwest, particularly Victoria Island in British Columbia, and Oregon and Washington in the United States.

Back to Top

Who gets cryptococcosis?

Cryptococcosis is disease due to a species of the fungus Cryptococcus. C. neoformans typically infects immunocompromised persons. Most people in the United States who develop cryptococcal infections are HIV-positive. However, occasionally persons with no apparent immune system problems develop cryptococcosis. Infections with C. gattii have also occurred in healthy persons without compromised immune systems.

Back to Top

How is Cryptococcus spread?

Inhalation of airborne fungi. Cryptococcosis is not known to be spread from person to person.

Back to Top

What are the symptoms of a cryptococcal infection?

Cryptococcal infection may cause a pneumonia-like illness, with shortness of breath, coughing and fever. Skin lesions may also occur. Another common form of cryptococcosis is central nervous system infection, such as meningoencephalitis. People with cryptococcal meningoencephalitis are usually immunocompromised. Symptoms may include fever, headache, or change in mental status.

Back to Top

How soon do symptoms appear?

Incubation times vary for infection due to Cryptococcus species. Symptoms from C. gattii infection are estimated to begin anywhere from 2-11 months after exposure. The incubation time for C. neoformans is not known.

Back to Top

If I have symptoms, should I see my doctor?

Yes, it is very important to seek immediate medical evaluation.

Back to Top

How is a cryptococcal infection diagnosed?

The diagnosis can be made by microscopic examination and/or culture of tissue or body fluids such as blood, cerebrospinal fluid and sputum. The cryptococcal antigen test is a rapid test that can be performed on blood and/or on cerebrospinal fluid to make the diagnosis.

Back to Top

How are cryptococcal infections treated?

Treatment of meningoencephalitis and other severe infections is usually initiated with an amphotericin B formulation, with or without flucytosine. Fluconazole is used for maintenance therapy in HIV-infected patients with cryptococcal meningoencephalitis, and may be used for patients with milder forms of infection not involving the central nervous system.

Back to Top

How can cryptococcal infections be prevented?

C. neoformans is commonly spread by bird droppings, especially pigeon droppings. People who have weakened immune systems should avoid areas contaminated by bird droppings, and should avoid contact with birds. There are no formal recommendations for the prevention of C. gattii infection.
